Supporting projects that promote sustainability in French tourism

Atout France organizes "calls for expressions of interest" to support projects that renew and promote sustainable French tourism. Selected projects receive the technical and financial support to optimize their implementation.

With France Tourisme Ingénierie, Atout France provides engineering services to stimulate investment in sustainable projects. It has developed three programs :

- Renovating leisure real estate in mountain resorts,

Atout France also implements innovation initiatives to enhance the competitiveness, attractiveness and sustainability of the tourism industry. It strives to coordinate the solutions devised by French Travel Tech startups with the needs expressed by territories, and to test them in real-life settings.

Moreover, Atout France is developing the sustainability criteria required for the classification of commercial tourist accommodations.

Asserting France as a sustainable destination

Atout France promotes France as a travel destination, focusing on offers and destinations that spearhead sustainable development to foster better practices.
