Our ambition for sustainable tourism

Orléans Val de Loire Tourisme proudly achieved ISO 20121 certification (July 2024) and the Destination Innovative and Sustainable label (2025), promoting responsible consumption and reducing event impacts. These initiatives engage all stakeholders—visitors, organizers, providers, and communities—in sustainable development across social, economic, and environmental dimensions. Our sustainable tourism strategy fosters long-term growth while respecting our environment and uniting partners. Professionals in hospitality, travel, and leisure are refining practices, and both French and international visitors increasingly value our green, quality tourism and digital advances, including reduced paper documentation.

Innovation & Competitiveness

Ranked as France's 4th most attractive city in 2025*, Orléans Métropole concentrates on four major competitive clusters: Cosmetic Valley (pharma and cosmetics), S2E2 (energy production and smart management), Polymeris (polymers and plastics), and DREAM (water resources). Excellence hubs like LAB'O Village by CA (French Tech Loire Valley), Agreen Tech Valley, and Cluster Nekoe further drive innovation. In 2023, the CHRO evolved into a university hospital (CHU). With 88 research labs, the University of Orléans in the Shanghai ranking since 2019, 70% of national pharma production, 406 logistics firms, and 9,400 industrial, commercial and service establishments, Orléans ranks in the top 10 for GDP.
